

Educational Developer (wil)

College of New Caledonia
Prince George, BC

The Prince George Campus is seeking an Educational Developer to lead the work integrated learning (WIL) initiative. In addition to providing teaching and learning support to faculty, the Educational Developer (WIL) will be specifically responsible to:

- Collaborate with faculty and staff to identify/develop, implement, and assess WIL opportunities and strategies across all programs of study.
- Promote college curriculum programs to link qualifying college students to available job opportunities in the job market.
- Identify and foster partnerships and networks that result in WIL opportunities to benefit and support College students and graduates
- Develop and implement a Work Integrated Learning placement strategy for the College

Skills & Qualifications

- Master's degree in business, business administration (MBA), Marketing, Human Resource, or Education
- Experience in post-secondary education with an in-depth knowledge of the principles of adult learning, and teaching and learning strategies
- Demonstrated knowledge and experience related to the design, implementation, and assessment of teaching resources/strategies
- Demonstrated knowledge of work integrated learning models
- Demonstrated project management experience
- Excellent coaching, facilitation and communicative skills
- Excellent management and leadership skills
- Ability to establish and maintain collaborative relationships with faculty and administration
- Excellent interpersonal, as well as communication (oral and written) skills
- Strong detail-orientation